EAGLES TO HAVE INITIATION, BALL AND BOX LUNCH

Arrangements are being made by J. S. Martin for a grand time at the Monday evening meeting of the Alvarado Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

President B. R. Joseph will open the ceremonies. The Fruitvale Ritualistic team is expected to be present to initiate twenty-five new members into the order. Part of the Fruitvale Drill team is also expected to put on several drills for the benefit of the lodge.

A grand ball will follow the initiation. As this is an open meeting, all of the members and their families are invited to be present to enjoy the evening's entertainment. The Woodmen of the World orchestra will play for it.

Shortly before midnight box lunches will be auctioned off in the good old fashioned way. The buyer, of course, has the privilege of sitting with the pretty girl who made the tempting lunch. A wonderful evening is in store for all those who attend.

Supervisor Richmond and Building Committee Get Appropriation

COUNTY Surveyor Posey and his assistants were in Niles last week staking out the grounds of the new Memorial Building to be erected on the lot donated by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Shinn on Second street.

This week the ground was broken, leveled, and excavation work was started. Foundations will be laid next week.

There will be no formal ground breaking ceremony as announced several months ago. The Washington Post of the American Legion will do the same as the other legions of the East Bay cities in regard to having no ground breaking ceremony. They will have an elaborate dedication when the building is completed which will be sometime before Christmas.

One of the features of the building is the auditorium which is to be forty-five by sixty-two feet with a fourteen by thirty-eight foot stage. It will have a hardwood floor suitable for dancing.

The official building committee who have worked for this Memorial building for the past eighteen months is as follows:

It has been through the persistent efforts of Supervisor Richmond that nearly $50,000 has been appropriated for this building by the Alameda County Board of Supervisors. He has gotten the appropriation raised from $20,000 to $48,750. Several thousand dollars worth of furniture is also to be purchased for the building.

As this is to be a Washington Township hall it will be available to any worthy organization who may wish to use it. Already there is a great demand for it.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL HAS THIRTEEN TEACHERS EMPLOYED

The board of trustees of the Niles Grammar school has made its selection of this term's staff of teachers. Several new ones have been added because of the expected increase of enrollment. The board decided to open school on August 26.

Work on the new primary building is being rushed, so this department can be used as soon as school opens. If it is not finished by this time, the pupils will have to be crowded up in the old rooms for several weeks.

Principal E. Dixon Bristow.
Miss Celeste Bunker.
Miss Gertrude Inglis.
Miss Gertrude Keller.
Miss E. Jacks.
Miss Cecelia Enos.
Miss Selma de Jonge.
Mrs. R. Griffin.
Miss M. Curran.
Miss A. Purin.
Miss Florence Blair.
Mrs. Charlotte Foster, vocal music.
J. P. McClellan, instrumental music.

FIVE OF TINEGA GROUP CAMP AT MINKALO

Five Niles camp fire girls of the Tinega group left Saturday for two weeks at Camp Minkalo in the Eldorado National Forest. Mrs. J. E. Townsend, guardian, accompanied them.

Those in the party who went to camp were: Patsy Duffey, Estelle Martenstein, Evelyn Rose, Muriel Fournier and Bonney May.

The girls went to Stockton via train where they spent the night at the San Joaquin County Campfire Girls headquarters. Leaders from Camp Minkalo met them there with cars and transported them over the 100-mile trip to Silver Lake.

For two weeks the campfire girls can enjoy the woods and the lake, besides earning merit points. Letters received from the girls by their parents and friends say they are having a most wonderful time.

HAYWARD JOURNAL SOLD SECOND TIME IN RECENT MONTHS

The Hayward Journal was sold for the second time in recent months, Tuesday. Editor Clyde Brown has sold out to J. J. Motzko, of Vallejo. The paper was purchased several months ago from Dr. Bertha Dymant and now it is resold.

In the brief time that Mr. and Mrs. Brown spent in Hayward, they actively managed the Journal. Because of Mr. Brown's health it was necessary for him to seek less strenuous pursuit than that of editing a newspaper. They may go to Washington where they have an interest in a large orchard.

Mr. Motzko has been part owner of the Vallejo Daily Times for about eight years and comes to Hayward with a record of splendid achievement in the newspaper field.

PARKS BUYS PLEASANTON TIMES

Norman H. Parks, publisher of the Township Register, is now also owner of the Pleasanton Times, having purchased the Times Monday from Judge Wilbur Davis. Possession was given today.

Mr. Parks will operate each paper independently and seperately. There will be however, an amalgamation of the news staff, and the combined equipment of the two papers will be at the disposal of the patrons of the Niles and Pleasanton publications. In this way, better papers can be produced at considerable saving in wages and material that goes into the production of a newspaper.

Pleasanton is a good town, growing. The field is rich and Mr. Parks is sure that the Times will prove a financial success.

NILES CHURCH WILL REOPEN SUNDAY A.M.

The Niles Congregational church will re-open its regular morning services at 11 A. M. this Sunday. All the members of the congregation are reminded of this date so there will be a large attendance on the opening day.

Reverend A. W. Seebart has announced for his sermon, "Observations from Yosemite." He returned from this beautiful valley, Tuesday. As many people of Niles spent their vacations in Yosemite, they will surely be interested in this topic.

Reverend Seebart will preach his last sermon at this church on August 18. He and his family will then move to Columbus, Montana, where he will take his new charge.

PERSONAL NEWS

THIS SEASON IS PROSPEROUS FOR FRUIT GROWERS

Local Canneries Put Up 2,000 Tons of Apricots This Year

ACCORDING to the high price being paid this year by the canneries and also for dried apricots, the farmers of this township who have large crops will be very prosperous when they receive the money for their fruit. Many of the orchardists decided to dry this year, although the local canneries put up nearly 2000 ton of apricots between them.

Motorists passing through Niles can see the hills covered with the golden apricots which are drying on the trays. Antone Garcia has one of the largest driers in Niles. This season he dried 500 ton of cots. H. R. Hunt is drying about 175 ton. Enos Pacheco, Fields, and P. H. Moore are also large apricot driers. Joe Abrue, of Decoto is drying also.

Schuckl's Cannery in Niles will by the end of the week have put up 1300 ton of apricots which will make over 65,000 cases. F. E. Booth company canned 600 ton of 'cots this year which will make nearly 40,000 cases. Both canneries will finish their run of apricots by the end of the week. Booth's will start their pear run next week, and the Schuckl cannery will employ a small force to can fruit salad.

The general price being paid this year for the apricots was $75 for the 14's, $50 for the 12's and $37.50 for 10's or smaller. These prices vary between the cannery prices and those offered by the dried apricot dealers. Most of the 'cots this year size up to about twelve to the pound. Some are larger and others are smaller according to the treatment given the trees and the age of the orchard.

Road Above Western Pacific Tunnel Is To Be Widened

THROUGH the efforts of Supervisor Richmond, the county board of supervisors at their meeting, Tuesday, decided to widen the pavement over the Western Pacific tunnel in Niles Canyon. It will have to have an extension built so as to widen the road. At present this curve in the road is very narrow.

The matter of buying up the property along the strip of road between Hord's bridge and Clark bridge has been left to Supervisor Richmond and Surveyor Posey. The property owners, it is claimed are asking too much for their land. which will be cut away in order to widen the road to fifty feet.

Construction of the Clark bridge and this strip of road, and the bridge across Patterson's slough will begin this fall. Plans and specifications are now being made by Surveyor Posey and his assistants. As soon as the board accepts these plans, they will advertise for bids for a forced contract.

Mass Meeting To Form Lighting District To Be Held Tuesday

Every property owner, business man, and voter of Niles is expected to be present at the big mass meeting to be held in the Egyptian ballroom, next Tuesday, August 6, at 8 p. m. At this time it will be decided whether or not Niles will form a lighting district and what the boundary of the said district will be.

The people are supposed to ask as many questions about this affair as they desire. Representatives from the Pacific Gas and Electric Company will respond to all queries that may be asked.

If it is decided to form this district, a petition will be circulated among the resident property owners of the decided district. Twenty-five signers is the minimum number allowed by the county ordinance governing matters of this nature.

Many of the merchants on Main street are of the opinion that it would be a great mistake and a step backward if the three lights recently erected for demonstration purposes were removed. If the town fails to form the lighting district, of course the natural consequence will be that Niles' main thoroughfare will again become inadequately lighted.

Two Men Trapped In Mushroom Building

Leo Vincent and son, Wendell Vincent, of the Pacific Mushroom company were almost suffocated Saturday evening. They were in the Pacific Mushroom buildings fumigating and when they tried to open the door to go out, they found the door fast. Some one had parked a car against it. After much shouting and yelling, the occupants of the car were finally made to realize that someone was fastened inside the building and moved their car.

Editorial Comment

By NORMAN H. PARKS, Publisher Register

A WORD AT THE START

(FROM THE PLEASANTON TIMES)

THE GREAT family of Pleasanton Times' readers expect some certain pronouncement from the writer, who has just purchased the paper from Judge Wilbur Davis. It is a custom as old as the newspaper business itself for a departing editor to print his valedictory—in newspaper parlance, his "obituary"—and the incoming editor his forward outlook, promulgating, generally in detail, what he will or hopes to accomplish in his new field of labor.

No man can tell what the future will bring forth. Wise though a publisher may be, and confident of his ability, he can not say positively that his venture will be a success. And it is foolish, indeed, to map out a policy and say that, religiously it will be adhered to and executed with exactness.

The writer was born in the living rooms back of his father's newspaper office in Nebraska. He has smelled ink from infancy to middle age, and the aroma as years speed by looses none of its fragrance. It is ambrosial and a perfume of inexpressable sweetness. He loves the art perservative. To him it is LIFE.

Yet, with our varied and long contact with publishing, we hesitate to map a policy for the Times. There are certain cardinal principles, however, that have and always shall, govern our conduct of a newspaper. These, it may not be out of place or egotistical to state. Briefly they are:

The presentation of news uncolored. Neither prejudice nor patronage will leave its sinister impress upon the events of the day.

The smallest man in material possessions receiving the same consideration in news mention as the mightiest in worldly possessions.

Every dollar of service to the public that the business will possibly stand, and still pay a fair compensation for our labor and capital invested.

** * **

With the combined facilities of the Niles Register and the Pleasanton Times, the readers of both papers will profit. The patrons of our commercial printing departments will also find at their service a variety of typefaces that no one small town shop can possibly offer. The equipment of both plants, working in harmony and co-operaton will permit us to execute job printing of every description in a manner comparable with the metropolitan office. Speed in delivery will also be an essential feature on rush jobs. The forces on both papers can be mergered, when necessary, to handle a large order with dispatch.

We feel that the Times will be a financial success. But we want it to be more than that. We want to hold the confidence and good will of all. We shall be satisfied, in a personal way, if, after we have been with the Times for a score of years we shall be personally liked as is Judge Davis. Davis has been in Pleasanton nine years—a long time for a newspaper man to remain in one place—and yet today, his friends are legion, and if he has enemies, the writer has never learned their names. That in itself is a wonderful tribute. Judge Davis is liked and respected throughout Amador Valley. He is popular among newspaper men over California. Should he elect to leave Pleasanton, his leaving will be noted with profound regret.

Again, we repeat, that if in years to come, we shall so conduct the Times and our personal self in a manner to win the esteem that is accorded the departing editor of this paper then—

THE TIMES WILL BE A SUCCESS

WE ARE SAD

A SAD PIECE of news came to us this week. Clyde Brown has sold the Hayward Journal and he, together with his very brilliant and capable assistant, Mrs. Brown, will leave California for Washington. These newspaper people bought the Hayward paper only a few months ago, yet in so brief a period they have made a host of friends. And while they were making friends, they were also making "hay," to speak in the parlance of the street. They have lifted the Journal from an eight-

Weekly Chats With Lovers of Books

This summer's book review came to The Township Register this week through the courtesy of Mrs. Roland Bendel, story teller for the Children's Hour at the Nlies library during the school term. The interesting and instructive review follows:

"Victim and Victor," John R. Oliver—

This book brings to us again the picture of God's servant who goes forth and heals mankind with a wonderous sympathy wrung from his own suffering. It is the story of a deposed priest, who, rejected by his church, is still able to teach the great fundamental tenets of that church down in the slums of mankind, where there is such terrific need of consolation. The book is light fiction reading, and many people argue that it is poorly constructed, from a literary point of view. But it leaves the reader with the consciousness of a new friend found, and no book can do more.

"Christin Lavransdatter," Sigrid Unsted—

This is a "tremendous tome," consisting of three books in one. We cannot even say that it is pleasant reading. But we guarantee that if you start it, you will not be able to leave it alone—nor will you miss a word. It is the life of a woman in mediaeval Norway, and perhaps the outstanding piece of fiction of the last decade. Incidently, it is a Nobel prize book, which in itself demands that one read it. It has been discussed in practically every literary group this year, has been the theme of innumerable book reviews, and Doctor Aurelia Reinhardt recently devoted an entire afternoon to it at Elder's bookshop. If you read only one book this year, read "Christin."

(Mrs. John Adams, of Niles, gave an admirable review of this book at the May meeting of the Book Review Section of the Oakland Women's City Club).

"The Cradle of the Deep," Joan Lowell—

This is the story of a girl who, from eleven months old, was raised by her father, a sea captain, on board an old sailing craft. It takes one all over the South Seas, and tells of many old sea lore stories and customs. It also enlightens one, most graphically, about all manner of sailor folk habits—the ability to "spit straight in a sou'wester"—Father Neptune's initiation crossing the equator—the creed of the accomplished "cusser"—of babies born on Southern sands, to the tune of tom-toms and dancing men—of white natives—in fact of many half-whispered traditions and beliefs. You will enjoy this sailor maid who could out-cuss any old tar. And if you want to know what kind of a land-lubber she made later, read a facinating article in last week's Saturday Evening Post.

"My Philosophy of Industry," Henry Ford—

A small, half-hour book, giving concisely the philosophy of this "production magnate"—showing a kindly, simple creed, which has been sufficient to carry one of the world's outstanding men on through his complex living. It would behoove many of us of simpler life, to benefit from this little book.

"Schuman-Heinck," Mary Lawton—

The life of a woman which every man will enjoy. Few of us realize the life this "international" woman has known. The book is fascinating, from cover to cover—and leaves one with indomitable courage to "carry on."

Plan Development Of South American Trade

Local farmers may profit by the move being made by the Sacramento Region Citizens Council to seek development of South American markets for California produce.

The council has voted to send Assemblyman Van Bernard as market scout and Dudley Moulton, horticultural commissioner of San Francisco, as his aide, to Argentine, Brazil, and Uruguay. They are instructed to ascertain what products and materials of California are now being used by South American countries but imported from other regions.

General Steamship Corporation is offering free transportation and Moulton's services have been tendered the council by the San Francisco supervisors free of charge. It is expected that this tour will result in bigger and better markets for California farmers.

The three countries to be surveyed now import some California fresh fruit but only after it has been shipped to New York by train and then via refrigerator ships across the Atlantic. If shipments could be made direct from California, produce would arrive in condition to encourage bigger sales.

Brazil now imports more grapes than the entire Orient but not one from California. It is possible to develop a trade situation, the council believes, so that California farmers will never again be compelled to let their peaches rot on the ground.

ALAMEDA COUNTY FAIR AT HAYWARD AUGUST 7 TO 11

Grand Parade Will Open Show Next Wednesday Evening

'Way back in the Middle Ages of Europe, or even earlier, members of the artisans' guilds gathered in cities and towns at certain periods of the year to exhibit the finest products made by their hands. As the institution thus founded grew, it included farmers and workers of many occupations. It attracted minstrels, acrobats and jesters and took on the character of a carnival attracting people from all the countryside about to watch the fun, see the gay masquerades and folk dances, and, mayhap, to learn what new devices John the Watchmaker or Will the Weaver had conceived in the past year.

That is part of the early history of what we know today as the county fair. And the 1929 version of the Alameda County fair will open at Memorial park in Hayward August 7 for a five-day session, ending the evening of Sunday, August 11.

The title, "Alameda County Fair," is being used for the first time this year, superseding the former, "Alameda County Farm Products Show." Particular attention is being paid to displays which concern the farm, the garden and the home. Sixteen booths of farm products, each booth representing a community near Hayward and sponsored by one of the Federated Improvement Clubs of Southern Alameda County, will be among the exhibits in the main tent. Many individual exhibits also will go to make up the finest collection of agricultural products ever held in Alameda County.

Exhibits of work done by boys and girls of the Four-H agricultural clubs sponsored by the extension department of the University of California, by the women of the County Farm Centers, by the Hayward Health center and the city health department, and by Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls, should be of value to those seeking to enhance the charm of their own homes and to safeguard the health and happiness of their families. An art department will include paintings by Alameda artists and examples of domestic art and fancywork.

Breeders of poultry, pigeons and rabbits, material of some of the county's most important industries, will find interest and instruction in that division of the fair.

Music and dancing in the main tent every night, three or four boxing bouts on each of the last four nights of the show, besides various clowns and concessions, will be among the amusements.

Formal opening of the fair will come the night of Wednesday, August 7, with a mammoth opening parade, in which organizations of all sorts will enter floats and uniformed groups. The children's pet and hobby parade, in which about 500 youngsters will appear in costume with decorated bicycles, wagons, scooters, ponies, dogs, cats, birds or what-would-you will be the fair's most spectacular event of the following afternoon. Friday will be San Leandro day, with the Kiwanis boy's band and other groups from that city giving a program. A "slow race" for automobiles will be a feature of Saturday afternoon.

HILL APPROVES PLANS OF GRAMMAR SCHOOL IMPROVEMENTS

Dr. Andrew P. Hill, of Sacramento, head of the state division of rural school plans, was in Centerville to confer with the board of trustees and Principal Dias of the Grammar school, Tuesday.

A four-room primary building is to be constructed of first-class building materials with the exterior stuccoed. The old building will first have to be razed. The proposed building will be started by the time school opens. It will probably cost over $12,000.

Many improvements are also to be made in the school soon. The board was instructed at a recent mass meeting to purchase a fifty by one hundred foot lot adjoining the school grounds on the right side. This additional ground will be used for a play ground.

Lucky Number Of Fords Sold Here

Bettencourt, of Centerville, sport coupe; C. H. Waterbury, of Centerville, sedan; and Mrs. M. Bodutch, of Centerville, town sedan.

TOO MUCH BUNK IN TIRE SALES LOCAL DEALERS BELIEVE

Public Quick to Appreciate Simple, Straight-Forward Guarantee Such as Surety Bond

"There has been too much bunk in tire selling" says C H. Waterbury, of Centerville, who with M. F. Slater, of Irvington, handle the Dunlop tire in Washington Township "In the first place most people are apt to be a little bit mad when they buy a tire.

"They don't get any fun out of it, as they would out of buying a new car or even new clothes.

"To them it represents a disagreeable but necessary purchase, and the only thing they want to do is to make sure they are buying most wisely. But they wonder how to buy wisely, because most tire claims are as much alike as the statements of two prize fighters before a fight. Each agrees to knock out the other fellow in the first round.

"This situation is probably the reason why the Dunlop Surety Bond Guarantee, which is now offererd with every Dunlop Tire, is proving so popular with our customers. This guarantee is just a simple commonsense, straight forward statement, covering the buyer against the twelve major tire troubles, even if he admits the troubles are his own fault. It has no ifs or ands and it applies even on Dunlop Pneumatic Truck tires.

"We find that this 'plus value'—if you could so call it, which we are able to offer, does more to satisfy customers than all the high power salesmanship in the world. They can read through this simple guarantee, see that its faithful performance is guaranteed, not only by Dunlop, but by the American Surety Company of New York, and buy with confidence that every claim will be fulfilled."

AUTO SUGGESTIONS

This is the time of year when thoughts respond to the call of the open road, and long-looked-for vacations are being taken. It is imperative that cars be given thorough inspections and all necessary repairs made if vacations are to be enjoyed.

When brakes begin to squeak, have the servicemen check up to see whether: the banks or shoe are properly adjusted to the drum; rivet heads are dragging on the drum; the drum is scored or out of round; grit or other foreign matter is imbedded in the lining; anchor bolts or brake rods are loose; any parts are rusted.

Several important changes are to be made at the Washington Union High school this year. Bulletins have been sent to all the incoming freshmen, but these changes will be of interest to the upperclassmen.

The most important change is the new grading system of marks. They now conform to the state standard as follows:

1—95 per cent to 100 per cent.
2—85 per cent to 95 per cent.
3—75 per cent to 85 per cent.

Inc.—Incomplete.

This standard is much higher than that of the previous years. Four is the minimum passing grade.

The following courses are offered this year: College Preparatory with majors in language, or science, or mathematics; Commercial for stenographers or bookkeepers; and Industrial. Journalism is the only new subject offered this year.

Five hundred students are expected to enroll on the two registration days, August 22 and 23.

The new gymnasium and four new class rooms will be ready for occupancy before the second semester.

In boys athletics the regular seasons for football, basketball, baseball and track are being scheduled by the athletic manager. The girl's award has been raised to 750 points necessary to win a circle W; and the star is given for each additional 250 points.

Mr. Kimber will teach instrumental music six periods a day instead of three as he had to be content with last year. This additional time will enable the school to produce an A1 band and orchestra. According to present plans the band will enter the state band contest next spring. More data on this year's music program will appear in another article.

The faculty for this term is as follows:

GRAVEL COMPANIES MERGER

Many changes may be made in the Associated Gravel Company's plant in Niles during this month. Last week this company and many other sand and gravel plants of the Eastbay merged into a new company organized under the name of the Pacific Coast Aggregate, Inc. The capital invested runs into millions of dollars. This new corporation will be the largest producer of sand and gravel in central California.

Norman B. Livermore is president, and G. L. Jamison and F. W Erlin are the vice presidents of the new corporation. William H. Ford, of Niles, is a member of the board of directors.

It is estimated that the gravel land holdings of this organization are sufficient for its needs for fifty years.

The local plant manager will know of the changes to be made as soon as the board of directors and the officers meet, which will be sometime before the fifteenth of the month.

Advantages of Centerville and Irvington Are Told

BUSINESS AND INDUSTRIES OF BOTH TOWNS are PROSPEROUS and THRIVING

Centerville has the distinction of being the home of the township's high school, offering courses for those who would go into business, industry or higher educational pursuits from the eight towns already mentioned and the three rural districts of Alviso, Lincoln and Mowry's Landing, the assessed valuation of this section being $12,000,000.00.

The Washington Township Union high school is on the highest accredited list in the University of California. A ten-months school has been maintained with a growth of 25 per cent each year for the past four years. A night school is also maintained for more than 200 students, where adults study all the regular subjects in addition to citizenship and English for the adult foreigner.

Centerville and Irvington both have excellent grammar schools, the building at the latter town being one of the most beautiful architectural achievements in the state. Both towns have active, progressive Chambers of Commerce, both Catholic and Protestant churches, libraries and fraternal and social organizations for young and old.

The biggest shipper of green vegetables in the state has a branch in Centerville as well as at Alvarado, the H. P. Garin company. Here are located also the F. E. Booth cannery, employing 500 men and women and producing annually 350,000 cases of fruit and vegetables which are shipped all over the world; the Williams Brothers, shippers of about 175 cars annually of fruit and vegetables to eastern markets; the Pacific Rock company with a capacity of 1,500 tons of gravel per day, furnishing all kinds of sand and gravel for building purposes in the bay district; the J. & F. Metal Products company, producing sheet metal and well casings for industries around the bay, and the Farm Products company, shippers of fruits and vegetables. One of the best-paying county branches of the Bank of Italy is located here.

In Centerville is the headquarters of the leading women's organization of the eight towns, the Country Club of Washington Township, the attractive and well-arranged club house being the gathering place for many of the social and cultural events for both men and women throughout the township.

The founding of Irvington is closely connected with the early history of the state. According to the "History of Washington Township," the first American settler, John M. Horner, coming to California in 1846 in the celebrated ship, Brookly, settled near Irvington in 1847. In 1853 William Simm shipped from Irvington to the World's Fair, New York City, in hermetically sealed cases, samples of California grain which attracted much attention. There were oat stalks ten feet three inches in length. Also the product of a single grain of wheat, 70 spears or stalks having 4,200 grains or kernels and some wheat heads of from 50 to 80 grains in a head.

Irvington's first name was "Nigger Corners," so called from two negroes who kept a saloon on one corner, but fortunately it was later changed to "Washington Corners," and later, through the railroad company, became "Irvington."

Two packing houses, a branch of the Bank of Alameda County, and Reid Brothers, manufacturers of surgical appliances, make up the list of Irvington's outstanding business concerns. The Southern Pacific packing house has been leased to the Federated Growers, a co-operative non-profit organization with nation-wide sales service. The town has shipping facilities in both the Southern Pacific and the Western Pacific railroads.

Its products number alfalfa, corn, tomatoes, prunes, apricots, grapes and strawberries, Irvington being the leading community in the township in the strawberry business and ranking next to Mission San Jose in its prunes and grapes. Yearly there are shipped from the township about 35 cars of grapes and 33,750 chests of strawberries, each chest containing 144 baskets.

Reid Brothers, manufacturers of Procello Aseptic steel furniture and accessories, is one of the concerns which gives national advertising to this vicinity. Its high grade products are used in practically every hospital on the Pacific Coast and exported in large quantities to the Orient, yearly sales amounting to $100,000.

AUTO SUGGESTIONS

What is the lowest part of your car? Check up on this and then make a note of it for future reference. The next time you strike a rutted road or bad detour the lowest part of your car is apt to take some pounding from the road, and you should have this part checked up on at the first garage beyond the detour or bad road. A quick checkup may save repair bills, a breakdown or accident later on.

If the water in your radiator boils from the heat when driving a mountain grade, even though you are using the proper gear to help the motor, it is best to stop and let it cool. Do not pour cold water into a boiling radiator, but let it cool, or at least keep the motor running while replenishing the radiator. If you continue to drive with a boiling motor, the heat will affect the lubricating quality of your oil and endanger pistons, rings and cylinder walls.

STOP SIGNALS ARE LESSENING AUTO FATALITIES

California ranks fourth among the states of the Union in the number of fatal automobile accidents every year.

The state's record was 1,870 motor car fatalities in 1928 with the prospect of an increased number this year, according to a survey made public by Clay S. White, national secretary on traffic regulations, of Wichita, Kansas.

"Automobile fatalities in this country have more than doubled in the last ten years. Sixteen thousand more people were killed in automobile mishaps last year than met their deaths from this cause in 1919. There has been an average increase of 1,636 motor deaths per year in the last decade.

"Vigilance of municipalities in enforcing traffic laws, educating the motorists in careful driving and providing adequate safety devices is the only hope of materially reducing the yearly accident totals. More than 1,200 American cities and towns have cut the hazard of automobile smash-ups by installing flexible rubber traffic signals at intersections on streets and highways in direct line of the approaching motorist's vision. These stop signals, supplanting other types of signs at dangerous corners have resulted in accident decreases in a large number of cities."

LATTER DAY SAINTS WILL BUILD AUTO CAMP; TABERNACLE

Fifteen Cabins to be Built This Winter for 1930 Tourist Season

At the meeting of the conference committee of the Latter Day Saints in Irvington, Saturday morning, it was decided that the church would build an auto camp on their two and one-half acres of ground to be ready for next year's camp re-union and tourist season. Fifteen cabins are to be built this winter. Each year a few more are to be built.

It was also decided to build a beautiful tabernacle. This building will replace the old auditorium tent. The building is to be made of first-class building materials. The old grammar school building is to remain the Junior Church.

The following officers were elected for the Northern California division of this organization:

President, Rev. G. P. Levitt; vice-president; W. H. Dawson, both of Sacramento; secretary, Mary Steele, of San Francisco, and treasurer, Edward Ingham, of Berkeley.

NEARBY and ...YONDER...

by T. T. Maxey

Harnessing Niagara

FOR untold ages "Wild waters leaping down a mountain side" produced the indescribably beautiful spectacle now known as Niagara falls, but the tremendous energy (estimated to be 6,000,000 horse power) which was inherent in the tumbling of the Niagara river over this 164-feet-high precipice flowed away unused—wasted.

In an attempt to create power from this water a canal which diverted some water from above the fall to a point at the top of the gorge below the fall was dug in 1852. This water dropping upon water wheels turned machinery which ground flour.

The coming of electricity as power and the increased use of power spurred the imagination and ingenuity of master men toward improvement and expansion. Today, all waters which the federal water-power commission will permit to be diverted are used in a world-famous power-development plant which produces almost half a million horse power.

Water now diverted pours into a concrete-lined tunnel 32 feet in diameter and 4,300-feet long, cut through solid rock, rotates turbine generators and returns to the river. The electricity thus produced is sent by means of some 1,300 miles of transmission lines to users of light and power in 142 communities scattered through seventeen counties in New York state. The majority of homes in the nation probably reap an indirect benefit, through the purchase and use of materials or commodities which are made available by this outstanding power project, while the development of this power by water creates an estimated conservation of $25,000,000 worth of coal annually.

A local organization serves your Telephone

Altho your telephone will put you in communication with cities far away, your telephone company is not a far-distant affair. It is in reality a local institution, — its employees and managers are your own neighbors. We who serve your telephone are members of your service clubs, your church, your lodge. Our children go to school with your children. Like you, we are engaged in common tasks of local citizenship.

You permit us to serve your home and business in an important and very personal way. Because we are your neighbors, interested in your interests, and knowing your problems, we know what you expect of your telephone. And we are anxious to see that you get it.

Each year sees a steady advance in the telephone art. But your telephone will never become so efficient that its service to you is not dependent upon the zeal of a human organization, right here in your community, giving intelligent and courteous attention to your wishes.
